BCH020

Older Ford heads had a hole in the area shown in the circle below, which was needed for the oil feed to the centrifugal oil filter. Ford eventually stopped production of the filter so the hole was no longer needed.

If your engine has the old centrifugal system, you can use the FAI BCH020 cylinder head. If using this, you will need to remove the oil pipe from the block and seal the hole in the block using the Ford plug, Finis No. 1512462.
